Established on 12th July 1960, Ranchi University is a leading institution of higher education in Jharkhand. With 30 postgraduate departments, numerous constituent and affiliated colleges, and specialized vocational institutes, the university offers a diverse range of undergraduate, postgraduate, and doctoral programs. Committed to academic excellence, research, and skill development, Ranchi University is accredited by NAAC and continuously strives to enhance learning through innovation and digital initiatives.

Ranchi University's Central Library (Estd. 1962) is playing a key role in development and progress of Ranchi University, Ranchi. This Library has a total area of 9290 Sq. Mts. (Approx.) spread over in 3 floors in a separate building with ideal and friendly atmosphere. It caters to the information and knowledge needs of the user population (more than 5000 users) comprising of Teachers, Students, Research Scholars & Non-Teaching Staff of 30 RU Departments & other associated Units (Departments under the faculties of Sciences, Social Sciences, Humanities, Commerce, and Tribal & Regional Languages etc.) with a collection of more than 1.20 Lakh volumes consisting of Textbooks, Theses, Reference Collection (Encyclopaedias, Dictionaries, Reports, Gazetteers etc.), Journals, and E-resources. It is the member of Information and Library Network (INFLIBNET) Centre, Gandhinagar, and Developing Library Network (DELNET), New Delhi. This Library is participating in the Library and Information activities and programmes of these networks for boosting and maintaining the learning culture of the University. It has played the key role in formation of the Plagiarism Detection Cell (PDC), RU, Ranchi and is also working for implementation of the e-Granthalaya Project, Shodhganga/Shodhgangotri & Shodh – Chakra Project of the University. It is also guiding the Departmental Libraries.

Symposium Overview: Modern Libraries play an active role in academics, research & development. We should make Libraries truly dynamic, so that more meaningful services can be provided through collaborative work, networking and resource sharing. Keeping these aspects in view, a symposium has been organised in order to provide a platform to the librarians & other stake holders of libraries of Ranchi University, Ranchi for discussing the related aspects of effective library management in contemporary world. This Symposium is being organised to get the invaluable feedbacks from the library participants of Ranchi University in order to equip the Central Library and Departmental Libraries of Ranchi University with their ideas in order to make these libraries more effective and efficient.
